David O. Twaddell

Since joining Rhoads & Sinon LLP in 1981, David Twaddell has served a wide range of clients with their special financing needs. Acting as bond counsel, bank counsel, underwriters' counsel, and special project counsel, he has managed public offerings and private placement of bonds and notes, bank loans, industrial and commercial development projects, and state and federal grants and loans. His experience includes issuance of general obligation bonds and notes and revenue based financing for the Commonwealth and its agencies and for municipalities, school districts, hospitals, colleges, and other nonprofit organizations, as well as for private businesses. In addition to providing traditional finance structures, Mr. Twaddell has assisted clients in the development of innovative programs including bond pools, non-debt lease financing, and variable tender bonds.

Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Twaddell was engaged in a broad-based general practice that included business, real estate, civil litigation, and administrative law. He also served in the Office of the Attorney General for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
